

The Western Regional Summer Institute for Union Women

celebrates the solidarity of union women across boundaries of age, race, and nation. This summer, it brings us together in Portland, Oregon for skill building, education, and fun. Rank-and-file members, staff members, and officers from across the West will gather to share strategies, information, experience, and skills.

Highlights of the week include in-depth classes to hone skills and deepen knowledge. Workshops and plenary sessions examine current issues, ranging from politics, to health care, to international solidarity. Cultural events and workshops add richness to the Institute and inspire us to creativity in our union work.

The Institute will be held in a beautiful setting on the Reed College campus in Portland, Oregon.

Save the Dates for the Western Regional Summer Institute for Union Women. Spend a few days with more than 100 union sisters learning, sharing, and building leadership for the future.
